

ODBO to XMLA Provider

Connect any 32-bit or 64-bit OLE DB for OLAP (ODBO) consumer to any XML for Analysis (XMLA) provider/server with Simba Technologies' Simba02X driver.

Simba02X is an ODBO to XMLA client-side driver. It allows today's ODBO applications to work in a web services environment.

Value, Familiarity and Productivity For Accessing Comprehensive Business Intelligence

In the multi-dimensional server space, applications talk ODBO today, while most multi-dimensional servers support web services through XMLA.

Simba02X allows companies to move to a web services environment and continue to use their familiar ODBO-enabled applications. With Simba02X, users can access data from the next generation data sources of major multi-dimensional vendors – like Microsoft®, Infor® and SAP®.

Simba02X breathes oxygen into the most popular ODBO business intelligence applications, like Microsoft Excel, enabling fast, powerful and precise analytics from XMLA data stores.

Standards-based Architecture

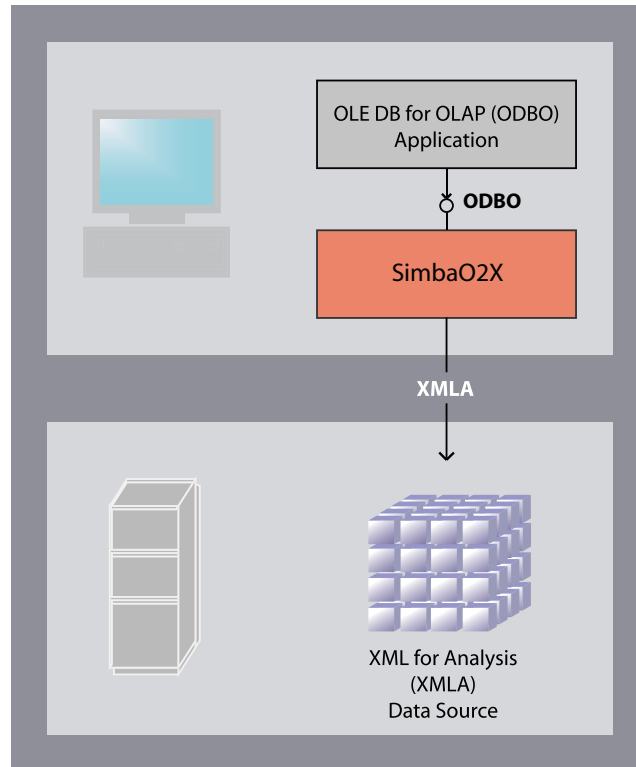

Simba02X supports all the major multi-dimensional standards – MDX, ODBO (32-bit and 64-bit) and XMLA – and it works in all the latest Windows environments.

Simba02X utilizes the XMLA standard, which is supported by the leading multi-dimensional vendors like Microsoft, Infor and SAP.

Simba02X is:

- Easy to set-up
- Easy to configure and use
- Based on standard protocols
- XMLA, MDX and ODBO (32-bit and 64-bit) compliant
